متن زیر را بخوانید و به سوالات آن پاسخ دهید.

Did you know that planting trees around your home can help you save money? Trees can lower the cooling costs of your home, especially during hot summer months. This happens because trees protect your home from direct sunlight.

When the sun shines directly on your house, the walls and roof become very hot. This heat travels inside and makes your home warm. As a result, your air conditioner has to work harder and use more electricity to keep the house cool. This increases your energy consumption. Moreover, trees cool the air and the surrounding area. They absorb water from the ground and release (let something go) it into the air through their leaves. This process is ‘transpiration’.

It is important to choose the right trees and plant them in the right places. For example, tall trees with wide leaves are the best. You should plant them on the south and west sides of your house because the sun is strongest from those sides. With a little planning, trees can be a smart and natural way to keep your home cool and save money.

★ True / False

34. Trees can decrease the cooling costs of your home. a. True b. False
35. The sunlight is strongest on the north side. a. True b. False

✦ Choose the best choice.

- 36. The pronoun ‘they’ in paragraph (2) refers to -----.
- a. leaves b. trees c. air conditioners d. areas

37. When the sun shines directly on your house -----.

- a. the cool air travels inside your home.
b. the trees absorb less water.
c. it lowers the costs of cooling your home.
d. your air conditioner uses more electricity.

★ Answer the following question.

- 38. What is transpiration process?

۱۱		متن زیر را بخوانید و به سوالات آن پاسخ دهید. Everyone wants to feel appreciated. When someone notices our attempt and says a kind word, it makes us feel happy and important. Appreciation is the feeling of being grateful for what others do for us. It is a very powerful emotion that can change our relationships and our daily life. My grandmother is the kindest person I know. She always thanks my mother for cooking delicious meals. She thanks my father for driving her to the doctor. She even thanks me for bringing her a glass of water or reading a book to her. She believes that no act of kindness is too small to be noticed. At school, our teacher reminds us to appreciate each other every day. We have a special board on the wall where we can write notes of thanks to our classmates. When someone helps us with homework, shares his/her lunch, or simply listens to our problems, we write a thank-you note for him/her. This simple activity has made our classroom a very friendly, warm, and peaceful place. Appreciation does not have to be a big action. A happy smile, a warm hug, a simple "thank you," or a small gift can show that we care. When we appreciate others, it makes our relationship with family and friends stronger and our life more wonderful. I try to say "thank you" every single day because I truly believe that it makes a positive difference in the world. ★ True / False 39. Appreciation is the feeling of being thankful when others don't notice you. a. True b. False 40. The classroom has a special board for writing thank-you notes. a. True b. False ★ Choose the best choice. 41. The word 'attempt' in line (1) is closest in meaning to -----. a. gift b. try c. emotion d. relationship 42. People can show their appreciation by -----. a. only giving expensive presents b. saying nothing at all c. smiling and hugging d. making a negative difference ★ Answer the following questions. 43. What does the writer's grandmother think about appreciation? 44. What does the writer do for her grandmother?
